

The origin of the German Volk in Cultural Purity and National Identity, serves as a brief study of the rise of the third Reich and German studies conducted by author Brian Vick. He identifies the material substance in the matters which have been represented with respect to the four important works covered this week. His reference to the Greco-Roman form is intriguing and a convergence of history and mechanism for mass appeal.

- (243) "...Greco-Roman form, and German morality... attained almost mythic status as the executors of a divine historical mission to carry out and spread this fusion of fall that was best in human history and culture. The key in the present context, of course, was that it was the Germans' uniquely cosmopolitan ability to understand and assimilate foreign cultural matter..."

Anthony Smith's statements throughout The Origin of Nations also credits the rise and contribution of women to the ideals of "German Purity" however his definition of Nationalism as an "...ideological movement..." (108), which in my opinion is too broadly stated and, thus further interpreted through Darwin's ideals as:

- (110) "Perhaps the best-known of ancient and medieval ethnie, the Jews, managed to retain their distinctive identity, even when most of their members were scattered in diaspora communities."

As supplement, the work of Renan in What is a Nation partitioned in Homi K. Bhabha's Nation and Narration recounts the rise and fall of Empires - introduced under Section I therein:

- (9) "Since the fall of the Roman Empire or, rather, since the disintegration of Charlemagne's empire, western Europe has seemed to us to be divided into nations, some of which, in certain epochs, have sought to wield a hegemony over the others, without ever enjoying any lasting success."

This statement serves as a blueprint to the ideals, generally the path of Dictatorship supported by the ideals of "German Purity". The Roman Empire, The Ottoman Empire - where prejudice, segregation and effectively global domination are frowned upon by competing nations. This serves as a continuation of Darwin's theory of evolution where in this case we have reviewed and understood each Nation to be a competent Individual in a conflicting series of events in a culmination of readings which collectively serve in the interest of the opinions as expressed by Ben Anderson.

Anderson's Imagined Communities was a significant supporting reflection of all the aforementioned readings, namely, in his opinion which stems from China. Born to a senior Member of the Chinese Maritime Custom (as referenced in the symposium and Journal of the Associate for the study of Ethnicity and Nationalism); he passed away at the age of 79 after having surveyed the northeast corridor, from Cambridge to Cornell, later found his area of concentration in a 'socialist' army of studies in the Southern region of Asia - namely the Countries of Vietnam, China and Cambodia which have been commonly referenced as "conflict zones" or dictatorship regimes. Albeit the occupations previously referenced are more in line with a history of dictatorships, the approach and strategy of a strong defense is generally something that would be employed by the a well-known leader of our modern culture, better known as "Lombardi"; singular. His coming of age was the result of "...the origin of France, Burgundy, and Lombardy, and, subsequently, Normandy." (Renan). It would be possible, however Lombardi's rise and empire has not been described to be in the form of dictatorship or in the form of "Nazi" or "Lazi", and reflects certain characteristics as referenced in Godfried van Benthem van den Berg's Herder and the Idea of a Nation, which was published most recently in 2018.

Lombardi's reign began in 1959, a form of dictatorship which began following both World War I and World War II. The images of those soldiers, dictators, and leaders, in this perspective, mirrors the images as represented in The Origin of Nations. In this seminal work, Vick first emerges in his question of the ethnic cultures during the onset of the 19th century and German "Reich". The rise in power of women beyond the scope of the World War II, and in our modern times - have assumed roles as executive staff members, as seen more prominently following Lombardi's retirement in 1968. The difference in Lombardi's signature continues beyond his role as General Manager in 1968 and empire of sorts as seen through the many championships awarded to Green Bay. The National Football League was dominated by The Packers, having earned five championship titles and following his passing in 1970 left the Packers without a single championship title for the three decades which ensued... as though G-d himself may have invoked punishment on Green Bay for the methods employed, similar to his disregard for the sacrifices of Jews, Negroes and the "ultimate solution" which served as the basis during the German occupation.

The transgressions of our own Nation in their approach and slaughter of the Native Indians by George Washington, the occupation of America in a "New World" - was in fact a herder of ideas in a New Nation, as written. Lombardi joined the Washington Redskins in 1969 - a memorable summer, nonetheless a Shepard of a different variety left the

Norma Hunt, as the present owner of The Kansas City Chiefs in our postmodern culture has formed a true favourite here in our Nation's 51st annual test of Blat Und Boden between the Chiefs and Buccaneers, which will be broadcast in a postapocalyptic coliseum for 100 million people, globally and multicastr.

Norma Hunt, as the present owner of The Kansas City Chiefs in our postmodern culture has formed a true favourite here in our Nation's 51st annual test of Blat Und Boden between the Chiefs and Buccaneers, which will be broadcast in a postapocalyptic coliseum for 100 million people, globally and multicastr.

There is a higher power which commands and decides who does what and when, as time is inconsequential to those who prevail. Clearly, this all falls back to Darwin's theory of evolution and survival of the fittest - the rise and fall of empires; notwithstanding the powerful Cleopatra, as the immense propensity of influence and power exhibited by women throughout history and in our modern culture are a necessity. While reflecting again on Freud's conviction that "G-d has dealt painful experiences", and more specifically to those who are ignorant to the value of human life, for which there is no prosthetic...

NFL AT 100: "A Lifetime of Sundays," 4 powerful NFL owners

The below referenced advertisement is a blatant disregard for the countless losses suffered by our Nation and overtly questions the opinions of the 20 million domestic infections, and 100 million cases of Covid-19 infections and deaths reported globally. The principle of resilience in our culture has survived and evolved through the complexity of time, inch by inch, day by day; such that 'ignorance is bliss and thus - the essence of this underlying power as a defense mechanism which has sailed through time into our cathedrals of worship.

— Both a test of fitness and the intellectual capacities of the fittest are compromised in this 30-foot-wide billboard placed in Manhattan. This attempt to better promote enrichment is a true and wasteful coverup, advertised as "...100% vegan and cruelty free... available in 30 shades..." but not for purchase in a shade for Hunt. This is not the variety of Hunt as previously referenced, but the Kareem Hunt one who in happenstance was traded to the Browns for his transgressions which took place in an elevator.

As seen in our modern system of corporate elevators, the resilience of religion and culture emerges and supersedes the rise and fall of the empires as observed in this week's readings, the very essence of Norma Hunt. Despite these terrible things that have happened in the past, this Nation looks forward to the betterment of her empire in the years which ensue as she relies heavily on this Lombardi - and on any given Sunday thereafter; amen. Similarly, as we look for new leaders and this modern-day Cleopatra to serve as the better half of the Billboard in the NFL.
